

Nareit® Individual Member Benefits

Nareit individual membership is for a single individual. There is no limit to the number of individuals who can join from the same company. An employee of a REIT or a publicly-traded real estate operating company (REOC) cannot join as an individual member. The REIT or REOC must join as a corporate member.

As an individual member, you'll benefit from exclusive access to Nareit's corporate members, member-only events, research, data, publications, savings, increased visibility and more. You'll also be able to actively engage with Nareit staff and REIT corporate members on issues of interest.

Exclusive Access and Savings at Events

- Connect with Nareit corporate members during Nareit's REITweek, a member-only event. This is the largest and most prestigious investor conference in the U.S.
- Get the latest information on law, accounting and financial issues relating to REITs and publicly traded real estate while attending panels and roundtables focused on best practices and hot topics at Nareit's REITwise.
- Save on registration for Nareit's Annual Convention, REITworld. Connect with REIT corporate members and gain insight on the latest trends in real estate.
- Access to member-only information and committees, subcommittees and initiatives. Receive the latest policy updates, share information relevant to your interests and join with your peers to help shape policy to further the interests of REITs.
- Gain publicity in REIT magazine. Nareit's award-winning, bi-monthly magazine includes interviews and news relating to the REIT industry, featuring individual members in every issue. Plus, receive complimentary copies of the magazine for everyone in your company.
- Executive interview videos and podcasts promoted online. Nareit produces video interviews with individual member executives at annual events. These interviews are promoted on Nareit's website, email communications and social media channels, providing you with a new vehicle to communicate with Nareit corporate members, investors and the public.
